Trinidad and Tobago is particularly well suited to develop a solar energy focused manufacturing cluster, on a large scale, for global export.

Solar Technology Park
15% - 20% Projected Growth

Solar energy installations grew at an average of 45% per year for the past 15 years, reaching USD100bn worth of installations in 2013, and 15-20% annual growth rate for the foreseeable future.

- Polysilicon 900M USD
- Metallurgical Silicon 200M USD
- Solar PV 500M USD
- Float Glass 185M USD

This is the conclusion after a year-long comprehensive feasibility, market and country competitiveness study for establishment of a Solar Industrial Park in Trinidad & Tobago. The study was undertaken on behalf of InvesTT by a private consortium comprising SiTek Ltd (T&T), Viridis:IQ (Germany), and The Float Glass Consortium (UK).

More Than POSSIBLE

The energy in our ground and in our people has made us a force in our region. Our growth, powered by low operating costs allows us to deliver more possibilities to investors. We have an innovative workforce, a well-developed communications infrastructure and are strategically located. Our strategic location in the heart of the Americas and trade agreements providing market access to over 1 Billion customers makes us the next best investment location.

Trinidad and Tobago is stable, our currency, political climate and generations of positive growth. We’re a hard working English-speaking country. Investing in Trinidad and Tobago delivers success for our investors.

Trinidad and Tobago is a land of contrasts where you have many choices in business and in leisure where you ultimately don’t have to choose because so much more is possible here.
